Garrett High School . . .

During this past year we at Garrett High School have been going forward across a bridge--the Seniors are taking their final step while the Juniors have taken their position at the lead. The rest have gone forward and accomplished much to approach nearer the end of this link, the link between our teenage world and that of adulthood.

. . . our bridge to the future.

We the class of 1960 can now recall our years at G.H.S. and be grateful for the guidance of teachers and friends, which influenced our attitudes and improved our character. We are thankful for the instruction we received to prepare us to meet adult responsibilities.

In the classrooms we discovered facts and faults; in the clubs we gained citizenship and cooperation; in athletics we acquired sports-manship and skill; and with our friends, we learned love.

DEDICATION

We, the class of nineteen hundred sixty, dedicate this collection of memories to our retiring superintendent, Mr. E. V. Minniear. This is a fitting expression of our appreciation, as his past record of achievement has aided us in our preparation for the future. Long after completing this bridge of our lives, we will recall his many years of devoted and progressive service.

Mr. Cale Hudson, as principal of G.H.S. since 1957, was responsible for all high school activities. Much educational progress was evident through his endeavors at G.H.S. In February of 1960, Mr. Hudson was named Superintendent of the Garrett school corporation, and G.H.S. will see Mr. Ben Simpson in the principal's office in September of 1960. These positions resulted from a school board vote after the announced retirement of Mr. Minniear.

Mr. Ben Simpson, our assistant principal, this year assumed duties of full-time guidance counselor. Administering achievement and aptitude tests and aiding Seniors to make decisions, plus his efforts toward the purchase of our newly-installed public address system occupied his time.

SCHOOL BOARD: Mr. E. V. Minniear, Emory Heitz, secretary; Eugene Yarde, Arthur Hall, president; Raymond Burtch, George Wade, treasurer.

Tomorrow's scientists

Senior Physics students--Dave Wiant, Bill Duerk, Ken Flora, and Sandra Dickison--experiment with weights to aid them in understanding the laws of force and motion.

Within the walls of G.H.S. are future Physicists preparing to meet the challenge of this modern age. Nuclear energy, television, and X-rays are studied as a part of the Physics course; it offers us both a complete knowledge of the past plus a modern outlook on our everchanging world.

Carolyn J. Morrow, Purdue; Arithmetic, Physics, Science Club and Seventh Grade Advisor.

Sharon James, Biology student, peers into the glass home of Mr. Jack Bateman's frogs.

A basic study of Chemistry is available at G.H.S. for students with scientific aptitude. Age-old discoveries are given modern applications. Regular laboratory work is carried on to promote understanding of the printed text.

General Science students in Jr. High learn the fundamentals of all science, and biology concentrates upon the study of animal and plant life.

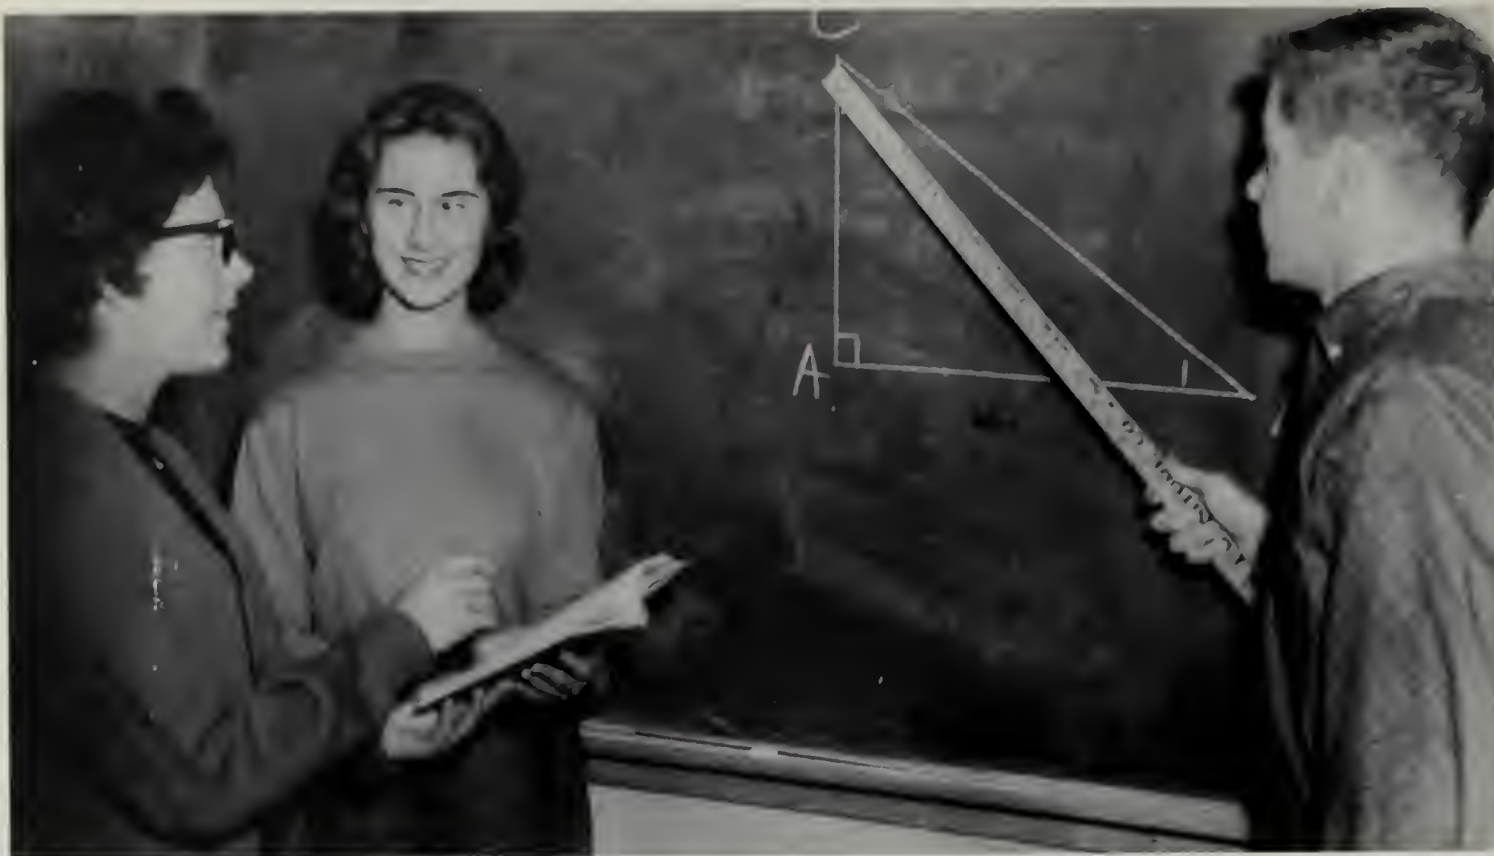

The results of the "spectacular reaction" experiment prove successful but displeasing to Chemistry student, Linda Mitchell.

Jack Cougill, Ball State; Science, Science Club and Eighth Grade Advisor.

Paul Bateman, Purdue; Vocational Agriculture, Biology, Athletic Director, Junior Class, Athletic Club, and F.F.A. Advisor.

Sherry Hunter, Karen Wade, and Doug Grueder pool their resources in an attempt to prove a theorem in Geometry class.

Know all the angles.

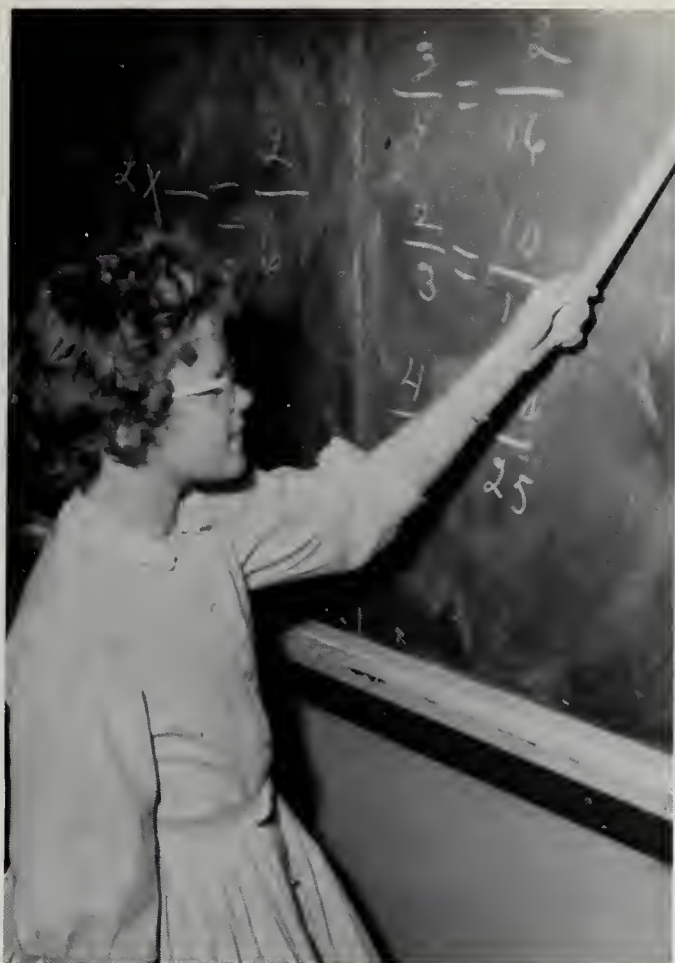

John E. Flora, I. U.; Algebra 1,
General and Business Math.,
Eighth Grade and Jr. Hi-Y Advisor.

A little of mathematics is seen by every student from Jr. Hi's to Seniors.

Jr. Hi's experience a beginning course in mathematics, and in high school, math is elected by the student.

Courses are given in General Math, Business Math, Algebra, Plain Geometry, Advanced Algebra, Trigonometry, and Solid Geometry. These courses help students plan for future careers, from a housewife figuring the family budget to an engineer planning the super-structure of a bridge.

Patty Eberhard, a Jr. Hi arithmetic student, studies the function of a fraction.

Mr. Flora offers a solution to Keitha Griffin's Business Math problem.

Mathematicians

Richard Capin, Manchester; Geometry, Advanced Algebra, Trigonometry, Jr. High Phys. Ed., Football and Track Coach, Athletic Club and Sophomore Class Advisor.

W. Gray Woodcox, Indiana State, I. U.; Arithmetic, Seventh Grade Advisor.

Courses in English offer

Barbara Muzillo and Mary Ann Sarpa prepare paste-ups in Journalism class as they study the art of newspaper writing.

Diane Miller, Susie Smith, Gloria Hall, and Steve Davis form a panel to discuss problems in Junior Literature class.

English of some form is required in every class, whether it be English, Speech, Literature, Journalism, or English Composition. English provides the student for a successful future in Business or any career where one is in the public eye.

Norma L. Crow, Indiana State; English, General Business, Eighth Grade Advisor.

reading, writing, and resonating.

Kenneth Flora holds his audience spellbound as he performs a charade in fifth period Speech class.

Mary Mellott, Earlham; Literature, English Composition, English, Senior Class and Y-Teen Advisor, C.T.A. Secretary.

Finally! After six weeks without text books, the United States History classes receive the new books and are ready to delve into the past.

Diana Johnson and Suellyn Wilmot answer the question "What kind of government?" and prepare to learn "why?" in Civics class.

Social Studies provide students with the history of their world and their government. Social Studies is offered in every grade with either World History, U. S. History, Civics, and Economics for high school students, and Geography for the Jr. High classes.

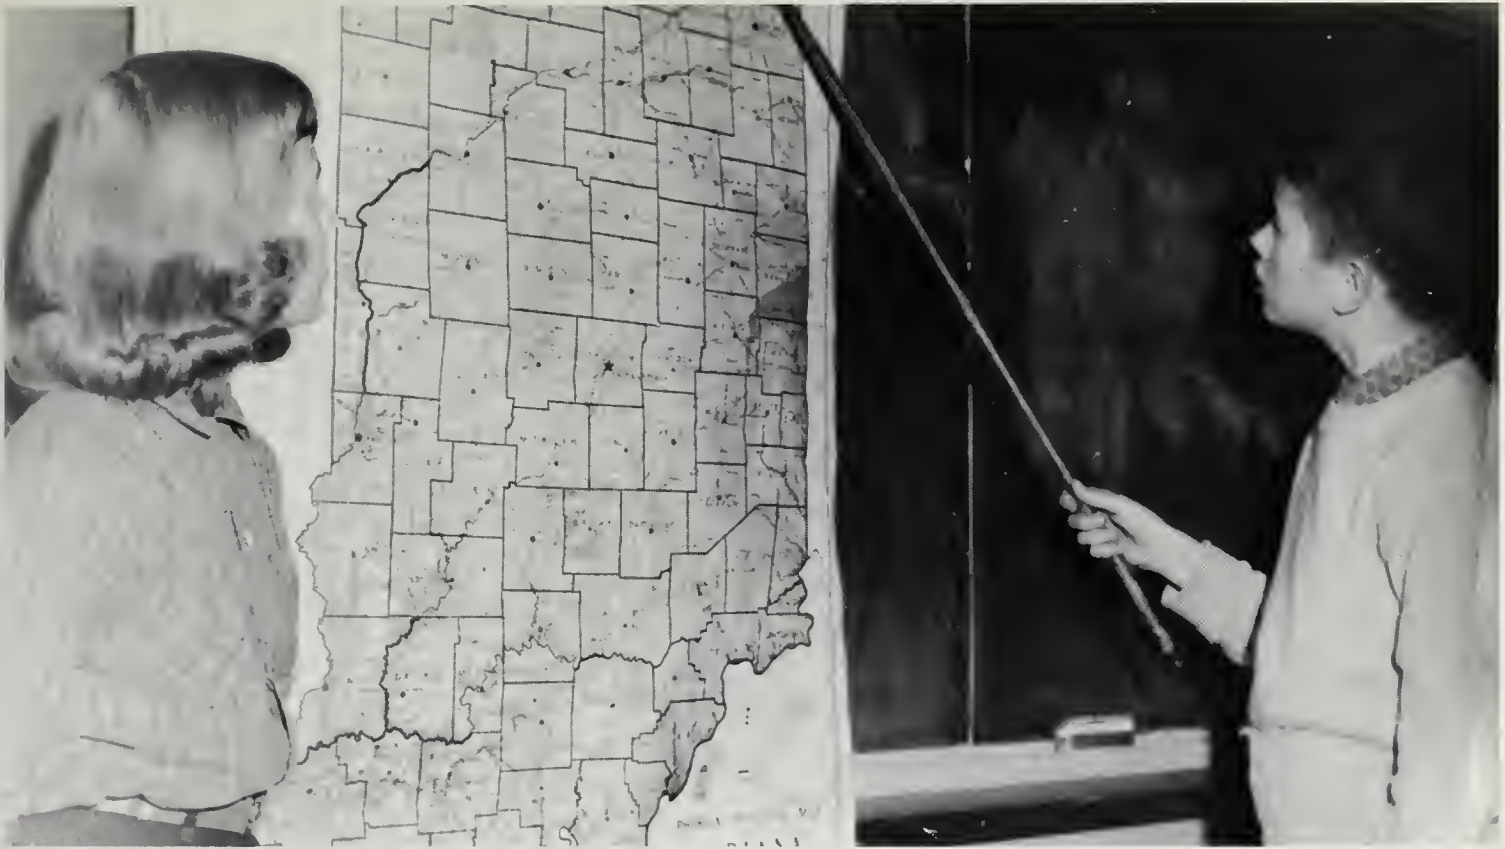

In Social Studies we recall the past

Virgil M. Finchum, Ball State; Economics, Government, World History, Senior Class Advisor.

Mary Ann Sattison looks on as John Moats points out the area in which we live. As they study Indiana History, the seventh graders learn of their heritage.

as we view the future

All eyes are on Mr. Harman as he reviews World History to his sixth period class.

Robert Harman, Wabash; Geography, Indiana and World History, Junior Class Advisor, Junior High Coach.

The Business World . . . at G. H. S.

First year typing students, Bill Duerk and John Detrick, demonstrate the qualities of good and poor typing techniques.

Some phases of business in preparation for the future is learned in our school's business courses. A course in business begins with General Business and Bookkeeping and extends to the work of Shorthand and Typing. This course permits a person to learn a secretarial trade or the managing of his own business.

Sarah Eldridge, Manchester; Bookkeeping, Typing, Blue Triangle and Junior Class Advisor, C.T.A. Treasurer.

Effie Gump, Manchester; Shorthand, Typing, Seventh Grade and Y-Teen Advisor.

New conversational Spanish records and books, purchased by the school, add interest to the course for second-year students, Karen Reasoner and David Casey.

Foreign languages give us a better understanding of English, and bring us closer to our neighbors in foreign lands.

Latin and Spanish take us abroad

Hildreth Sweeney, Manchester, Ball State; High School Librarian, Audio-Visual Director, Senior Class and Aeolian Advisor.

Wilma M. Sisson, DePauw; English, Latin, Freshman Class and Blue Triangle Advisor.

Hubert L. Stackhouse, Manchester and I.U.; Speech, Spanish, Senior Play Director, Senior Class and Student Council Advisor, C. T. A. Program Chairman.

Talents are revealed in High School Band member, Sandra Gaff, reviews the notes of a selection from "South Pacific" before the performance.

Karen Keefer, a Junior, prepares to have her voice tested in Chorus class.

Band and Chorus are provided for the student who enjoys music. A person who takes these courses can use his acquired talent in future years as a career or as a hobby.

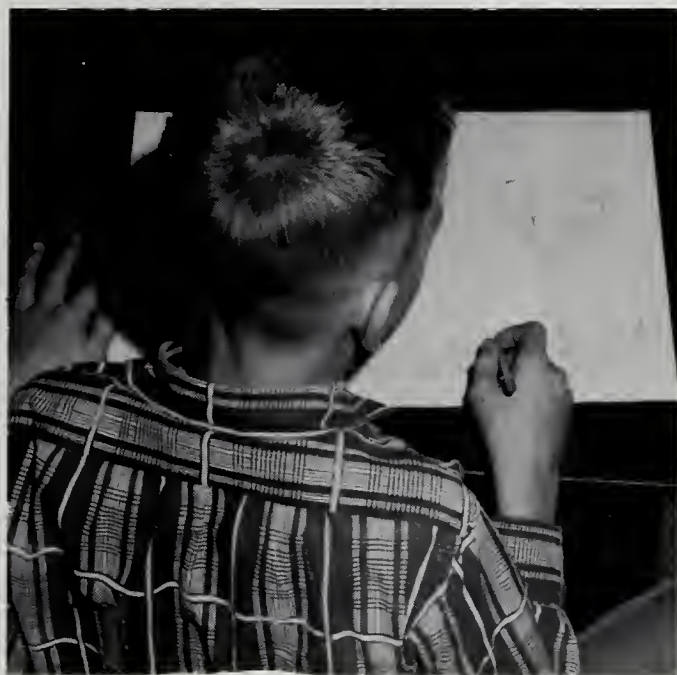

Raymond Cole, Ball State; Band, C. T. A. President.

Reba Stemen, Ohio Northern and Ball State; English, Music, Chorus, Vocal Ensembles.

music and art classes

Arthur Shoener puts his ideas of "Autumn" on paper, as self-expression is stressed in Junior High art classes.

Jim McCosh and Mary Ann Lewellyn add finishing touches to the giraffe which was constructed of paper in their eighth grade art courses.

Joel W. Plum, Manchester; Art, Seventh Grade and Art Club Advisor.

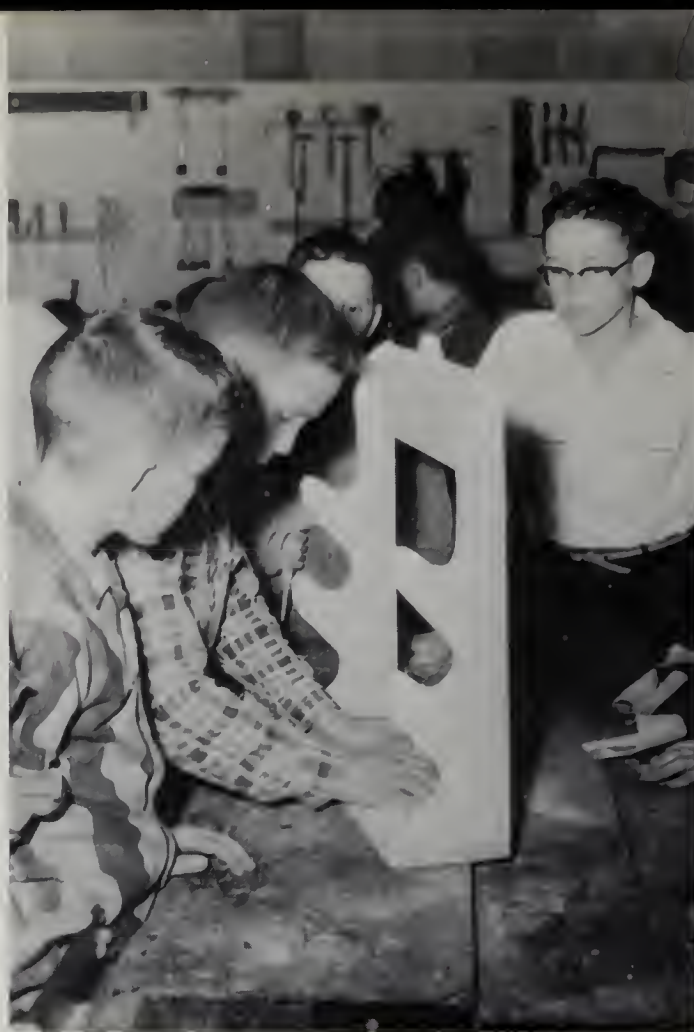

Individuality is the key word to the art program this year. Both Junior High and High School students are urged to express themselves as they draw, paint, or build.

The elements of good design were discussed by high school students, including the psychological effect of various geometric shapes. Color and its emotional effect on the viewer led into discussions on current fashions and hair styles. All this provided the student with a practical application of his art education in the everyday world.

After checking the timer, JoEllen Moses finds it is time to remove the biscuits made in seventh grade Home Economics class.

The Industrial Arts furnish students with the abilities to plan and to construct. The Industrial Arts course of our school consists of Shop, Mechanical Drawing, and Home Economics.

Jr. Hi Shop students engage in the construction of a gun rack during the fifth period.

Strengthening the home of tomorrow

Donald D. Steward, Ball State; Shop, Mechanical Drawing, Hi-Y Co-Advisor.

Carol R. Pugsley, Ball State; Homemaking.

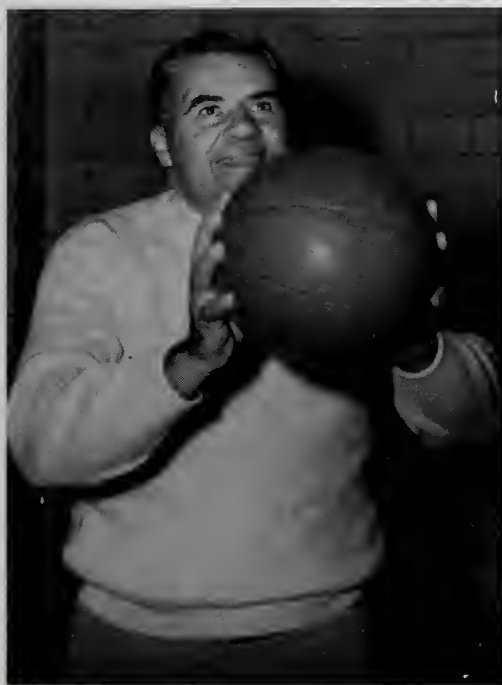

David A. Evans, Ball State; Shop, Eighth Grade Advisor.

Teammates wait with anticipation as Carol Schurr aims to "sink it" during seventh grade gym class.

Sportsmanship is stressed as skills are developed in Physical Education and in Driver Training. All Junior High students plus Freshmen and Juniors are required to take Physical Education.

as well as ourselves

Ward Smith, DePauw; Boys' Physical Education, Health and Safety, History, Sophomore Class and Athletic Club Advisor, Basketball Coach, Asst. Football and Track Coach.

Lenore Lewis, Ball State; Girls' Physical Education, Health and Safety, Business Law, Economic Geography, Junior Class, G.A.A., Pep Squad, and Cheerleaders Advisor.

James H. Troyer, Hanover; Driver Training, Freshman Class and Hi-Y Advisor, Asst. Football and Basketball Coach.

Organizations

Officers of the 1959--1960 Student Council session were: SEATED: Donna Buckles, Treasurer; Nancy Hilkey Secretary; STANDING: Gary Leggett, president; Charles Wentland, vice-president; Mr. Stackhouse, advisor.

Garrett High School Student Council, a service organization chosen by home rooms, is dedicated to the improvement of school and community.

Functioning under its new constitution, it governs the qualifications of its members, the way the meetings shall be run, and the work that the council shall do. The council purchased records for the noon-hour recreation program; selected assemblies for the following year; maintained the bulletin and honor-roll board; financed part of the football scoreboard; sponsored the magazine sales campaign; served as ushers at various school activities; and held, as their fund-raising projects this year, the variety show and the Aeolian hop.

Mr. Stackhouse is the sponsor of the student council.

Science Club . . .

Members of the science club pause between experiments at one of the bi-weekly meetings.

Officers are Harry Jackson, treasurer; William White, vice-president; Linda Mitchell, secretary; Robert Johoski, president.

Science club, one of the newest clubs in the school, is making a name for itself in a hurry. The purpose of the club is to help the members understand science. The science fair is the main project of the Science club.

This year Science club took trips to places of scientific interest including Miles Laboratory in Elkhart and the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago.

Co-advisors of the club are Miss Morrow and Mr. Jack Bateman.

Future Farmers of America . . .

This group represents the F.F.A. club of Garrett High School.

The officers of F.F.A. in the upper right hand picture were Stephen Roy, secretary; Paul Griffin, vice-president; William Knott, president; Dennis Whittington, Gaylord Shaffer, Thomas Griffin, and Chalmer Tuttle.

F.F.A., a national organization of agriculture students, strives daily to fulfill their purpose which is the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship.

The organization entered exhibits in the DeKalb County Free Fall Fair and sponsored within the club itself several contests to encourage the boys to accomplish more.

The club is under the advisorship of Mr. Paul Bateman.

Y-Teens . . .

Y-Teen officers: (SEATED) Verneda Fields, treasurer; Diane Miller, devotional chairman; Barbara Muzzillo, vice-president; (STANDING) Peggy Clabaugh, program chairman; Sandra Funk, president; Vicki Sithen, secretary.

LuAnn Myers appeared in a party dress at the style show presented by Stern Clothing Company at the Y-Teen Conference.

This has been an active year for our Y-Teen club. Starting the year off with a bang was the District Conference, held October 26, 1959. One hundred and fifty girls from area clubs attended this annual meeting.

On November 21, members of the Hi-Y and Y-Teens, held their combined semi-formal and danced to the strains of "Autumn Leaves." Music was furnished by the Bob Sanders Trio from Fort Wayne. The theme was carried out in the decorations. Leaves of orange, red, yellow, brown, and other autumn colors graced the walls of the auditorium. In the entrance, corn stalks, bittersweet, and trees added to the theme. On the tables, more autumn gave a touch of the woods.

Among the money-making projects of the club was the candy and cookie sale held in the auditorium. The girls concocted their favorite recipes, and the willing students bought them for a small price.

Through the year we've had many an enlightening half hour during activity period on Wednesday Programs planned and performed by Peggy Clabaugh and her committees were enjoyable to all.

The "execs" of Y-Teens get together as Sandra Funk and Peggy Clabaugh, Garrett's president and program chairman, follow Sue Ulmer, Angola's president, in the cafeteria line.

Y-Teen guests and Garrett Y-Teens became better acquainted at the noon meal during the conference. This meal, prepared by the cafeteria cooks, was served by a Y-Teen committee.

While they ate, they compared ideas of the different discussion groups which consisted of Young Marriage, College, Fashions, Racial Problems, and Dating.

Blue Triangle . . .

Blue Triangle officers for 1959-1960 were (SEATED) Sandra Pfierman, social chairman; Esther Warstler, vice-president; Kay Reed, secretary; Marjorie Carnahan, devotional chairman; (STANDING) Susan Hipskind, program chairman; Harriett Malcolm, treasurer; Mary Smith, president; Bonnie Owen, song leader; Dianne Wetoskey, service chairman.

Members of Blue Triangle listen and Mrs. Sisson looks on, as a committee chairman gives a report to the club during a regular Monday meeting.

Linda Tate and Charlene Hazelton check their card orders before they leave to deliver them. Miss Eldridge assists Pamela Loomis with price lists.

Blue Triangle club, sponsored by Miss Eldridge and Mrs. Sisson, started the new school year with the Sophomores initiating the Freshmen.

The girls sold Christmas cards as the annual money-making project. Evryklia Ioannidou, a Greek War Orphan, was adopted through the Foster Parents Organization for the seventh year. The girls made a scrap book of their individual pictures and sent it to their foster daughter.

Skits, pantomimes, and take-offs of well-known television programs followed the regular business meetings during Monday Activity Periods.

Highlights were the candlelight recognition for new members at the beginning of the school year and the Mother and Daughter Party at the end of the year.

As members of this club, the girls hope to attain the goals set up for them by the Y. W. C. A. They are: To grow as a person; to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions, and nationalities; to grow in knowledge and love of God.

As hillbillies, Nancy Hilkey and Karen Wade, entertain other Blue Triangle members.

Hi-Y . . .

Officers of Hi-Y were Thomas Burtch, president; David Crowe, treasurer; Michael Steward, chaplain; William Moree, secretary; Michael Kock, vice-president.

Junior Hi-Y . . .

The Hi-Y which emphasizes citizenship and sportsmanship along with Christian Fellowship had another successful year. Rev. Walter E. Meyer was the club's religious advisor.

All meetings were opened with the Hi-Y platform spoken by all members. "Clean speech, clean living, clean sports, and clean scholarship." Devotions were given and the business was conducted. A program was presented each week ranging from inspirational talks to comedy.

The annual semi-formal with the Y-Teens was held on November 21, with Autumn Leaves as the theme. The Bob Sanders Trio, a dance combo, provided the music.

A paper-drive in the fall was the main money-making project.

The Jr. Hi-Y, the Freshman and Sophomore group, has the same purpose as the Hi-Y to build Christian character. Members look to the Hi-Y as their goal in the future.

Officers of Junior Hi-Y were Robert Culler, vice-president; Jerry Thomas, treasurer; Richard Burtch, chaplain; Glenn Claxton, secretary; Douglas Grueder, president.

Members sit in their normal game formation during weekly meetings. Here new yells and skits are practiced for the basketball games.

Pep Squad

Officers of the Pep Squad for the basketball season were Peggy Clabaugh, secretary; Karen Helf, treasurer; Mary Swank, president; Marcia Gingrich, vice-president.

"Fall in--Begin--" When you hear this you know the Pep Squad is ready to perform. This year's Pep Squad is the biggest ever. Composed of 110 girls, this club was formed to support the team at home games. During the half and between games the club puts on skits for the entertainment of the audience.

Several new rules have gone into effect this year. A girl must be in her seat by 7:45; if she's late, she's absent. Absences, unless you are ill, are unexcused. Also a rotation system has been devised. Those who sit on the lower rows must yell to keep their seats. If they don't yell, someone who does, will be allowed to take that seat.

Buckles' forwards attempt a field goal, but they are hampered by Hewitt's guards.

Donna Musser fights to "to get that ball" as teammate, Sandy Sithen, waits for the outcome.

Girls' Athletic Association

"Don't play too rough, girls!" is the familiar sound heard on Monday nights. The regular meeting of G. A. A. is held every Monday, and those girls who like to keep active and have a little fun join this organization.

This year started with a round-robin basketball tournament. This tournament lasted six weeks, and the team that won the most games was declared champ. Basketball was followed by volleyball. The winning team here was also determined by a round-robin tournament.

One of the highlights of the year was the play-day held at Huntington. Senior girls, accompanied by Miss Lewis, journeyed to Huntington on November 21, to enjoy swimming, bowling, folk dancing, and archery.

Elected to lead in sportswomanship were Susie Smith, vice-president; Sherry Hunter, secretary; Susie Hipskind, treasurer; Carolyn Ridenour, president.

Along with others, these students spent many after-school hours working to provide students of G.H.S. with a school paper: John Detrick, Gail Ewert, Donna Dee Buckles, Susan Smith, Gloria Hall, Gloria Traster, Sherry Staley, Janice Brown, Sandra Funk, Eric Bickel, Karen Helf, John Flora, James Short, Suellyn Wilmot, Judy Baker, Karen Keefer, Bonnie Myers.

Maroon and Blue Streamliner

The Maroon and Blue Streamliner, under the sponsorship of Mr. Richardson, is of major pride to most students of G.H.S. Members of the journalism staff can be justifiably proud over the fact that they have admirably fulfilled their purpose which is to write and publish a paper that will support the school, inform the students, provide a history, and entertain.

For the first time in the history of the paper the Maroon and Blue is no longer a project of the journalism class alone. This year it has become an extra-curricular activity in which students of all grades can participate in its publication. Most of the work on the paper is done during study halls and after school by about eighty energetic students as compared to twenty last year.

Some of the duties that the students have to perform are to search for news write and rewrite the stories, collect ads and frantically meet the deadlines.

In charge of the bi-weekly production were Joe Griffin, photographer; Sandra Dickison, co-editor; Linda Mitchell, business manager; Carole Fike, co-editor.

The production staff of the Aeolian was: (SEATED) Judy Baker, William Duerk, Michael Steward, Janice Brown, Sandra Hopkins. (STANDING) Rodney McMillan, Larry Miller, Sandra Dickison, Charles Quinn, Sue Ann Bock, Jane Parker, Judith Davis.

Aeolian . . .

Assistant Photographer, Myron Smith; Assistant Editor-in Chief, Jackie Gingrich; Editor-in Chief, Carolyn Ridenour; Photographer, Joe Griffin.

Headlines and deadlines! These were the two dreaded words of the Aeolian staff as they worked toward the goal of meeting four deadlines and providing students with a record of the school term 1959-1960.

Editing the book were Carolyn Ridenour, editor-in-chief, and Jackie Gingrich, her assistant. Making layouts, scheduling pictures, writing captions and headlines, while keeping the staffs busy were the jobs of these two. Joe Griffin, photographer, carrying camera and film, was a common sight in G.H.S. during the year as he captured in pictures the school activities and sports events. Myron Smith also served on the staff as assistant photographer. These were all aided and advised by Mrs. Sweeney.

The production staff created the copy while the business staff headed by Linda Mitchell, manager, created the sales.

The Senior class has endeavored through our yearbook to bring to you a true picture of what G.H.S. means to us--Our Bridge to the Future.

Chorus

Boys' Vocal Ensemble was composed of (ROW ONE) Kenneth Flora, Edward Bowman, Dennis McLeland, Ronald Murphy. (ROW TWO) Wayne Peters, Russell Rowe, Theodore Jay. Carson Culler was absent when picture was taken.

Chorus classes, directed by Miss Stemen, provided much entertainment during this year. Background music and special numbers were presented for the annual Thanksgiving program for G.H.S. students. The Parent-Teachers Association sponsored the Christmas choral program, at which chorus and speech classes combined their talents. Speech students formed tableaux while the chorus added the Christmas story in words.

Special groups this year were the Boys' Vocal Ensemble, Teenettes, Junior Girls' Ensemble, Sophomore Girls' Ensemble, and a new-comer, The Barbershop Quartet. This quartet features four Sophomore girls. These groups were well represented at the Northern Indiana vocal contest in Fort Wayne, held on January 30.

G. H. S. Band

Officers of the band were Joyce Owen, librarian; James Carper, treasurer; Joseph Griffin, secretary; Paul Griffin, president; Julia Bennett, librarian; Vicki Sithen, vice-president.

Some of the harmony that floats throughout the halls of G.H.S. on school days and entertains and inspires the students at ball games originates from the G.H.S. band, directed by Mr. Cole.

The band members in their striking maroon and gray uniforms marched at the Auburn Fair. Then they inspired the student body and faculty at the annual Christmas program. They participated in a solo ensemble contest in February and entered the band contest in April.

The band then took part in the local spring concert and again gave G.H.S. a reason to boast.

Several of the members entered the twirling contest in the spring, and the finale for the band came with their participation in graduation-week exercises.

Aside from the many contests and concerts, the band also played at ball games and entertained the school at various school affairs.

The band raised funds to meet its financial obligations by selling candy to the community.

G.H.S. twirlers were Karen Shenk, Jeanne Menges, Jackie Hollis, Drum Majorette LuAnn Myers, Patricia Pfeiffer, and June Harding.

Librarians

Librarians are students who volunteer a part of their study time each day to help out in the library. While this is a great service to the school, they are also learning much about library science.

The duties of a student librarian are to help other students find books, and reference materials and to keep the shelves in order. They also check incoming and outgoing books.

Anyone who has chosen library science as his future career can gain much experience by helping in the library. The librarians learn how the library is run and how to take care of the books. This gives them a head start if they take up the study in college.

Student librarians were Linda Davis, Sharon Beber, Janet Tuttle, Jane Parker, and Karen Reasoner.

Art Club

Members of the newly-formed art club were (SEATED) Judy Allen, Robert Davis. (STANDING) Jane Parker, Carolyn Ridenour, Dean Brumbaugh, Mr. Plum.

Art club is a new organization at Garrett High School this year under the direction of Mr. Plum.

It was formed in order to have more time to discuss psychology and philosophy as they are related to Art. The members also study the principles of color and designing. The club meeting gives the regular art students more information than they could get during the class periods. It also gives students who are not in Art classes a chance to learn about the subject on their own time since the club meets after school on Wednesdays.

One of the main projects during the year was the making of Christmas decorations for the school library and the faculty Christmas party.

Los Conquistadores

ROW ONE: Judith Allen, president; Susan Smith, treasurer; Doris Miller, secretary. ROW TWO: Rebecca Teders, program chairman Vicki Sithen, secretary; David Casey, vice-president.

A new club at Garrett High School this year is the Spanish club with Mr. Stackhouse as the advisor.

Any first and second year Spanish students may join, but it is not compulsory that any of them do. They converse in Spanish and in English. The club was organized to promote an interest in the Spanish language, the people who speak it, and the customs of these people.

At the Thursday meetings, they showed movies, played music, and had guest speakers of interest to Spanish students.

The special event of the club was a Spanish dinner prepared by the students.

Sports

Our opposition, a New Haven Bulldog, crosses the goal line, a rare sight during the '59-'60 season.

Seeming to follow in the footsteps of last year's team, the Railroaders dropped their first game with Goshen. The Redskins were just the fuse that exploded the Railroaders from a docile package of individual firecrackers to a collective explosive charge which swept over every team in sight. New Haven followed Goshen, and the grid men of GHS began to show their forcefulness downing them 25-14.

As the Railroaders gained steam they crushed the Yellow Jackets of Decatur 27-0 in a conference rendering contest.

Kendallville was next in the path of the locomotive as the combination of a scoring backfield and a rugged line downed the Comets by a score of 32-6.

The highly regarded Bluffton loomed up as the next hurdle, but Garrett dispatched this impediment with the ease of a professional--32-6.

Then the highly-polished machinery of the Garrett squad got mud in the cogs and were drowned out by Central Catholic 6-14 on a water-sodden field that hampered the Railroaders' ground tactics and fouled their air attack.

Explosive playing and rousing cheers

Harry Jackson and Joe Mahnesmith show a part of their daily chores as student football managers.

Donna Dee Buckles, Susie Smith, and Jeri Snider raise their voices in praise and acclaim as they lead the fans in a cheer.

Concordia provided the final NEIC competition for the big eleven. The final play of the last quarter ended and left Garrett with its fifth conference victory. Concordia had fallen 28-12.

Senior boys were not eligible to play in the Angola reserve game, but the underclassmen showed their potential as they triumphed over Angola 13-6.

Then came the final game, the frosting for the cake, the Auburn game. Seniors, playing their last game, outran, outpassed, outblocked, and outscored the Devils of Auburn, and the gun sounded leaving the Railroaders with its final win and a victorious season.

Culler, Short, and Leggett, all were mentioned in the statistics of high scores for the season. Culler placed first with eight touchdowns and three extra points for fifty-one points in conference competition. David "Frog" Wiant turned in a reputable performance helped by linemen.

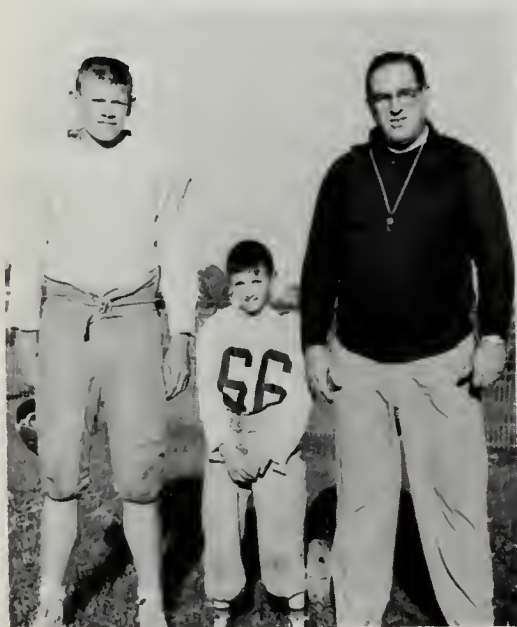

New rules are shown and changes are displayed by several members of the team at the football clinic conducted prior to the opening game.

The Varsity Railroaders of G.H.S. had a very commendable record for the '59-'60 season. Their won-loss record for the year was 16-7, all of the losses being on foreign courts. The Railroaders ability to win on the home court conserved and lengthened the home winning streak to 44 consecutive games, a streak started by the 1955-56 team.

Garrett defeated Ashley at their gym in the first scheduled game for both teams, but then lost the second contest a week later to the New Haven Bulldogs. The Garrett team then won every game until they were defeated by Angola on January 15th which gave them a season record of 7-6. From then on the mighty Railroaders rolled over every team on the schedule and fell but one game short of winning the sectional tournament at the season's end.

Railroaders cross our bridge

Railroader Carson Culler appears to be running through the air as he attempts to chalk up two more for our team.

Bob Fee jumps high for a shot as two Devils of Auburn draw back, anticipating the result.

With only two of last year's starting five, the Garrett team set out on what might have easily been a mediocre season. By juggling the line-up Coach Ward Smith was able to find the winning combination and his strongest substitutes. Mick Steward, a first year man, proved to be one of the stronger rebounders in the later games of the season. Mike Kock and Bill Knott held down the forward positions with coolness, coordination, and confidence; this tended to stabilize the sometimes unstable quintet. Carson Culler, three-year letterman, was a consistent scorer supported by Bob Fee and Tom Burtch. Bob Fee played only a part of the season due to age qualifications, and Tom Burtch filled in for the remainder of the season turning in a stellar performance.

in a train of Victory.

"Time Out" means a cheer and making more plans for victorious technique.

Leading cheers which helped the Handcars to victory were Kathy Buckles, Donna Musser, and Virginia Leech.

With broken records and winning streaks

Turning in a 15-5 season, the Handcars rolled over almost every team in sight. Many fans come early to see the unusually exciting preliminary games that featured flashing feet and long jump shots.

Sophomores made up the reserve team during the 1959-1960 season, insuring a strong varsity squad for the coming few years. Doug Grueder and Joel Zerns were the backbone of the hot Handcars, playing consistently in every game. The team as a whole showed quality in being calm and collected in any situation, a feature not often found in a reserve squad. The bench strength was strong too, thus allowing Coach Ward Smith to substitute freely at any time and without worry in the closing quarters.

All boys saw action at one time or another and all played well.

Garrett High School's Freshman Railroaders turned in a balanced record for the '59-'60 season. The first year boys changed from a mediocre team at the start of the season to a better than average team under the coaching of James Troyer.

The balanced record, 9-9, could be attributed to the splitting of games with the same team during the season. The freshmen won or lost their first game with a rival team and almost always turned the tables on the second meeting.

Coach Troyer was responsible for molding the boys from individual players to a relatively smooth--functioning machine. Tom Funk was high scorer for the year with 122 points and an average 8.1 points per game. Kobiela and Reese were in second and third spots with 103 and 100 points respectfully.

future Stars demonstrate top-notch ability.

"Undefeated in regular play" could well be the motto of the peerless five of the Junior High team. A 12-0 record was turned in by them during the regular season, but they tasted defeat twice in the tourney at Auburn at the season's end.

The rebounding-scoring combination of the Hathaway brothers enabled the squad to turn in this winning streak that covered 12 games and the entire regular season. "Bud" Hathaway was ineligible for the fateful tourney and a necessary cog was lost in the clock-work precision of the team. Corry, Patrick, and Jon Smith all turned in fine records for the year and constituted the rest of the squad.

Tony Foar was the leading scorer and played with a fierce determination that seemingly inspired his teammates, but coach Bob Harman's seventh graders did not fare so well because of the lack of height and the usual inexperience of seventh graders.

Nimble feet . . .

Carson Culler soars to new heights as he clears the high bar.

The GHS Railroaders of '59 kept the record of undefeated seasons intact as they rolled over every opponent who dared to cross their track. Old records were broken and new ones were set as the thinly-clads jumped and ran in a season which will be remembered in the hearts and minds of the fans who watched and of the athletes who participated.

New marks were set in the pole vault as Jim Getts went to a new height of 11'7 1/4". The miler-relay team composed of Vanderbosch, McBride, Short, and Crowe, set a new school record by covering the distance in 3.43:3 for the best time of the season. Vanderbosch set a new decade mark with a 440-yard dash in 51.6 seconds.

This year there are 6 lettermen returning and all indications point to a successful season.

John Kobiela, Dave Vanderbosch, Jim Short, and Fred Hall get on their mark, get set, and are ready to go!

Men of the greens . . .

Fore! The Golf Team's cry was heard over the local and surrounding links as GHS students participated in their meets which occurred as often as twice a week.

Although the team as a whole did not fare too well, individual players progressed very rapidly, insuring a good 1960 season. No one was lost through graduation and all five boys who played regularly will have a year of experience under their belts.

Members of the 1959 Golf Team were Rick Kneisley, Vic Cleland, Bruce Nason, Merlin Bartels, Lynn Sebring, and Coach Paul Bateman.

"Come and get it!" This was the cry being heard throughout the pavilion at Pokagon Park for the Junior-Senior picnic.

Once again Pokagon State Park played host to the Bermuda and blue jean-clad teachers and students of G.H.S. The warm weather and the enthusiasm of the Juniors and Seniors combined to make the picnic a huge success. Seniors, as hosts to the Juniors and faculty, celebrated this high point of their high school career. Spring's beautiful weather caused baseballs and bats to appear on the scene ready to add enjoyment to the affair. Mr.

Ward Smith and his speed boat were kept busy loading and reloading students eager to view Lake James. Others tried their skill at horseback riding, football, and hiking.

Everyone agreed that the best was saved till the last--the food. Pop, pie, and potato salad were devoured as friends discussed the happenings of the day.

The banquet and the picnic

These Sophomore natives catered to the whims and needs of the Juniors and Seniors, as they served Lomilomi and Ocean Foam as part of the Banquet dinner.

Class officers, banquet chairmen, and their dates were seated at the head table for "Aloha Luau," the Junior-Senior banquet.

The high school auditorium was once again dressed in its finest array by the Juniors for the annual Junior-Senior banquet. A Hawaiian paradise was reconstructed to create the scene for the "Aloha Luau." Juniors spent many happy but busy hours prior to the first of May, recreating a tropical island in murals, while adding to the effect were a star-studded sky, a grass hut, and numerous palm trees.

The entrance to the feasting hall--a beautiful terrace of a pool, palm trees, and tropical flowers--enhanced the romantic island atmosphere.

Sophomores, as Hawaiian natives, served a typical Luau feast which had been prepared by the Band Parents. Portraying their part well, they added much to the pleasure of the Juniors and their guests.
